Was there a particular instance where a life would have been positively impacted if you would have had the equipment available?

We have had multiple instances that required boat access to reach stranded medical patients on boats/pwc, victims caught in run outs, and victim searches. During recent hurricanes, the rising water in the St. Marys river stranded homeowners. Rather than being able to meet the crisis with a vessel adequately equipped for water rescue, these victims had to be rescued by a nearby homeowner and his small personal boat. As a result of the inadequate size of his vessel, and lack of specialized training, the retrieval of these victims was an unnecessarily prolonged event.

What positive effects will the equipment specifically have? Please use statistics when possible.

Division of Ocean Rescue statistics from 2016 show Nassau County had 207,442 total beach attendance from May to September. In 2017, the county experienced 238,357 total beach attendance from May to September. There were approximately 3300 preventative actions taken during that two year period. The equipment we are requesting would most definitely assist our department in times of crisis. In addition, there are 7 months out of the year when the Division of Ocean Rescue has no personnel or equipment available to mitigate water emergencies. Due to our warm climate, many citizens enjoy the ocean and inland waters in our area beyond the May-September season. The vessel we are requesting would serve as an integral component to a robust, effective response unit to mitigate emergencies from stranded boaters, to on-water medical calls and trauma, to victim search and recovery, and more.
